Phone Fasting during Lent

Here are FIVE suggested tips for how to bravely banish phones to a basket at home!

1. Place a basket/box/container in a prominent, public place so if the phone is 'needed' it can be accessed and returned easily.
2. Run charging cords into the basket so phones can charge during time out.
3. Designate times during the day when all phones go into the basket, maybe for a couple of hours in the morning or evening (or afternoons on the weekend?) This is a great way to compromise with children.
4. Live in the moment; not everything needs a photo to prove it happened or remember the details. If a picture must be taken, consider using a traditional camera or allowing one person's phone to take the photo. It can be shared with everyone else.
5. You could use the basket to drop off other electronic gadgets!

Then you must faithfully trust that relationships can be greater than screens.

Trust that what you are doing is right, good and worthy. You will most likely get some push back and attitude. Let it serve as confirmation on precisely why you are creating a phone basket on the first

Your family may not choose this on their own. When the freedom from the screen is realised, let shared, memories are made and relationships grown, they will appreciate the free and beautiful gift

you've given them. –Taken from 'Brave Parenting' 2023

Year 6 Offer day on St David's Day!

Year 6 Poems about Forest School Experiences

*Nature is a wonderful thing:
bees humming, birds tweeting and insects
crawling;*

people growing and people learning.

By Deborah

*Strolling through the forest, I feel:
A smooth silver birch, to my appeal;
Its branches were bent and lifted me up.
I even felt its pock-marked trunk.*

By Ashanti

*With my hands, I can feel:
the crispy leaves crunching and fluttering;
our rich wreath teeming with oak, heather and various rocks
and my bulletproof pooter, filled with diverse creatures.*

By Rafael

Year 2 Forest School

Year 2 created animal habitats using natural materials discovered, they hunted for minibeasts and painted with mud!
